

Healthcare

Ambulance care assistant Dental nurse
Dietitian
Health play specialist
Health promotion specialist
Health visitor
Healthcare assistant
Midwife
Nurse
Nursing associate Nutritionist
Occupational therapist
Palliative care assistant Paramedic
Pharmacy assistant
Phlebotomist
Physiotherapy assistant Podiatrist
Podiatry assistant Radiography assistant
Sports development officer

Childcare

Childminder
Early years teacher
Foster carer
Nanny
Nursery manager
Nursery worker
Playworker
Portage worker

Social care

Advocacy worker
Care escort
Care home advocate
Care home manager
Care worker
Child protection officer Counsellor
Education welfare officer
Family mediator
Family support worker
Housing officer
Play therapist
Probation officer
Psychotherapist
Residential support worker
Senior care worker
Social services manager
Social work assistant Social worker
Victim care officer
Welfare rights adviser
Youth offending team officer Youth worker

Adult social care will need over 500,000 more workers
by 2040

In healthcare,
there are usually over 100,000 job
vacancies in the NHS every month

Many jobs in this sector involve
working shifts,
which include evenings and weekends

Health and social care jobs involve helping people
and treating them with care and respect

You need qualifications in science for some jobs in health and
social care

Remember: It is important to study a broad and balanced range of subjects. Look at <https://nationalcareers.service.gov.uk/explore-careers> for more information about different jobs.